Altova Launches Version 2022 Release 2 with New Features for Improving Productivity

Beverly, Mass., March 8, 2022 – Altova® (<http://www.altova.com>) announced the release of Version 2022 release 2 of its MissionKit desktop developer tools and server software. This new version adds innovative new options and functionality for improving developer productivity across the product line with new features such as new tools for working with images and projects, enhanced support for mapping NoSQL databases, support for additional database versions, and more.

A highlight of some new features in this release:

- XMLSpy, MapForce, StyleVision, and Authentic users will enjoy the added support for images in the Project Window. Now, when Projects include image files, mousing-over will generate a preview. Images can also be opened for editing in other apps directly from the Project Window. In addition, XMLSpy users can now save images directly in Grid and Text editing views.
- In addition to support for images in the Project Window, XMLSpy includes a new toolbar that makes it even easier to complete common project management tasks.
- Support for MongoDB clusters in MapForce adds to support for mapping and converting data in NoSQL databases.
- Code generation has been updated in XMLSpy and MapForce to include support for Visual Studio 2022 and .NET 6.
- Support for relational databases has been updated across the product line to include the latest versions: IBM DB2 11.5.7, MySQL 8.0.28, MariaDB 10.6.5, SQLite 3.37, PostgreSQL 14.1
- And many more.

These and many additional features are available in Version 2022r2. To view the new features in each product and access trial downloads please visit: (<https://www.altova.com/whatsnew>)
